A TOUCH FOR THE MIND, BODY AND SPIRIT

The dense fiber surface of Interface modular carpet provides warmth and comfort underfoot, as well as providing visual comfort through color and texture. In addition, Interface products help reduce environmental stresses such as glare and noise that distract from the healing process and staff duties.

Sound Absorption of Typical Healthcare Surfaces

Test results show that carpet installed with padding or cushion backing provide significant sound absorption in a wide array of environments.

Pandel Anti-Fatigue Matting Products

When lengthy periods of standing are required, worker discomfort and fatigue can impact productivity, absenteeism and healthcare costs. Pandel, an Interface sister company, manufactures a complete line of anti-fatigue matting products that provide comfort, safety and increased productivity for healthcare staff.
